Mayor urges approval of road paving program

A $2 million, 20-mile road paving program has been recommended to Romulus City Council. Mayor Terry L. Troutt, in a special meeting Monday night, urged the council to approve the program which would see 20 miles of the city's roads hard surfaced with a "high grade asphalt finish."

The recommendation came after a two month study by Romulus Economic Development Director John Chihan and the city's engineers. "We'd point toward construction as soon as weather permits," Troutt said. "I'd urge the council to proceed immediately so we can get as much done as possible for the citizens." TROUTT SAID the program would provide "15-year life expectancy" asphalt repaving on gravel roads in the community. "We're proposing it so there are no special assessments," the mayor said. "It would require $1 million from the major road funds sent to the city by Michigan, another $500,000 from the local road fund and $500,000 from the general fund." Construction would be financed by general obligation bonds purchased by the city. Construction would be financed by general obligation bonds purchased by the city.

Troutt said he urged the program to begin almost immediately to avoid a possible shortage in asphalt and to help beat rising construction costs. "THE COST of asphalt already has gone up $20 per ton during the last year," Troutt added. "And construction costs rise at one per cent per month. So it's important we move now."

The program would pave half of the city's dirt roads, leaving the remaining road mileage for paving next year. "I said I would try to pave all the city's streets in my term as mayor. And I intend to do it," Troutt added.

At the same time, Troutt will be amking moves to improve the city's road classification system.

"THE WAY IT stands now the city has too few roads classified as local and too many roads classified as major roads," the mayor said. "It means the city has a $150,000 surplus in the major road funds while it doesn't have enough money to care for the local roads."

Cities receive money from the state on a mileage and population basis, depending on the classification of roads.

Major roads generally receive three times the amount of money per mile from the state than local roads.

However, only 25 per cent of the funds in the major road bank account can be transferred for local road maintenance.

COMMUNITY PRIDE — Assistant Department of Public Works Director Jim Radford (kneeling) straightens a new "I Like the City of Romulus" bumper sticker on the back of a city vehicle while Mayor Terry L. Troutt watches. The new stickers, designed to promote more pride in Romulus, were designed by Troutt in an attempt to fight a "bad image" given the city by downtown Detroit newspapers and television stations. — Romulus Roman photo.

In community Stickers boost pride

Romulus' city employees are displaying a new pride in their community. City vehicles are sporting some new "I Like Romulus" bumper stickers, designed by Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt, to help promote more community pride. "I think it's important for the citizens to be proud of their community," Troutt said. "And who's a better example of citizens than our employees."

"If they can't be proud of their city, who can?" Troutt said the new stickers were designed to help combat some poor publicity given the city recently by Detroit newspapers. "They carried all those stories about Romulus being a dumping ground for murder victims," Troutt said. "While they try to discredit this suburb because of the murder victims being found here, they forgot to mention that we're suffering with the problem Detroit created. "I guess we just want to show them and anyone who wants to poke fun at our city, that they can't keep a good bunch of people down. "We admit we've got problems. But we're willing to tackle them now and not let ourselves get swamped by them like other cities."

Commission formation is eyed to ease work of city council

The Romulus City Council tonight will be asked to create two commissions whose goals should be to improve community service.

Mayor Terry L. Troutt will request the formation of a three-man ordinance review commission designed to evaluate proposals and to weigh the effectiveness of old ordinances in the community.

The commission would conduct an on-going review of city ordinances to help ease the burden of the Romulus City Council.

Fred Miank, Jr., a lifelong resident and leader in community activities in Romulus, will be missed by those who knew the late township - school official. See story on Page A-3.

Citizens begin to accept Romulus Help Center

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

After four months of full operation, the Romulus Help and Job Placement Center has made great strides into being accepted by the city, according to a spokesman. "I'm pleased with the progress we've made since we've gone full time," said Leonard Melnick, the center's director. "We've placed more than 200 people in jobs, and now have a steady clientel of 60 people, with more people calling every day for help. "It indicates to me that we're being accepted, and that word has gotten around the community on us." MELNICK ADDED that the center's "success" can be measured in the contacts with the community the workers make. "The more people who come in to see us, the more legitimized we become to the community," he said. "All we can ask is acceptance." Melnick was hired as the full-time director of the Help Center six months ago. At that time, he announced his intention to implement an intensive crisis intervention and counseling program in the community. And since then, he and his three-person staff have been promoting the idea. "WE'VE SPOKEN to all the auxiliary teachers in the school system and hope to within four months make face-to-face contact with all the students in the Romulus High School and junior high school," he said. "Our goal is to let people know we are interested in them and to invite them to bring their problems to us." Melnick has a job placement counselor and two social workers working with him at the center. The counselors have been discussing problems with individuals, groups and families in the community in an effort to improve life in Romulus. "The popular conception is that we're a drug center," Melnick said. "But our goal is stop problems.

'It indicates to me that we're being accepted, and that word has gotten around the community on us.'

"Drugs are a symptom of a problem which goes deeper than the immediate drug use in most cases." "WE CAN'T SOLVE any degree of drug abuse without getting to the deep seated problem first." In its four months of full-time operation, the Romulus Help and Job Placement Center has had such impact that the federal and the state governments have indicated a willingness to continue to fund the agency. "We were informed Jan. 7 that we had to apply for funding within a week," Melnick said. "We put in some long hours, but got proposals together for our programs for the coming year. "This may be one of the few agencies in the Wayne County area to obtain full funding." MELNICK SAID the funding comes despite an apparent five per cent across-the-board cut in funding for such agencies in the Metropolitan Detroit area. "I know of a few run-aways we've dissuaded from leaving home," Melnick said. "those are tangible signs of success." MELNICK SAID the Help Center isn't designed as a place where only the youth of the community come. But it is an agency which is designed to help citizens of all ages. "We like to involve the whole family in counseling, especially in kid problems," he added.

City, township officials must decide on drains

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

Officials of Huron Township and the City of Romulus must make a "go or no go" decision on developing a drain construction program soon, or face the possibility of paying their share of a more than $100 million drain improvement program proposed by the Wayne County Drain Commission.

Officials of both communities learned of the county proposal last week at a special meeting between the township, the city and Wayne County to discuss the feasibility of studying a plan to develop a $15 million "storm water interceptor" system to the Huron River in Huron Township.

The Wayne County proposal, which amounts to giving a deadline to both Huron and Romulus to decide whether to develop their own drainage system, would obligate residents of both communities to pay for drain improvements on five major drains carrying water from both communities to points along the Detroit River and Lake Erie.

PAYMENTS for the improvements, which amount to $26 million alone in Romulus, would cover the costs of improving drain right-of-way from both community lines to the river, and don't cover the costs of improving the drainage systems inside both communities.

"What we were told is we will be obligated to pay for improvements from Taylor to Gibraltar just to carry off our storm water from our ditches," said Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt.

'Our need is critical if the city is to develop.'

"In Romulus alone, it will cost $13.6 million to improve ditches inside the community along with a $26 million downriver storm improvement assessment," he added.

Troutt said Romulus' drain water "sits at the top of the ditches right now," because of the poor drainage system between Romulus and the lake and river.

"OUR NEED IS critical today, if the city is to develop at all," Troutt said. "Our decision and that of Huron Township, is whether we sit back and wait for the county to go ahead with the plan, or whether we go ahead with our own plan."

Officials of Huron and Romulus will be faced with a decision whether to spend $60,000 on an engineering study requested by the Wayne County Drain Commission. The study will be used to determine whether the Huron River — particularly the Army Corps of Engineers' Flat Rock (Continued on Page A-3)

Troutt supports plan for drain interceptor

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt has given his wholehearted support to a program to construct a $15.5 million "storm drain interceptor" between the Huron River and the eastern portions of Romulus to carry off storm water.

The mayor said he is in favor of the proposal because it will both spur development and save the city money.

"Right now Romulus faces a possibility of being charged $12.6 million alone for improvements to the down-stream sewage system," Troutt said. "That comes before the city improves its own drains — a project which would cost another $13.6 million."

UNDER THE alternate proposal to send water to the Huron River, Romulus' share would be $11.5 million and we'd save one-third the cost on the drain improvement in our own city. "I don't think you can beat the deal."

Troutt believes construction of a storm sewer system is what the city needs to boost development.

"Right now, water stands in ditches until it can drain into the system leading to Lake Erie and the Detroit River," Troutt said. "With our own system, the water would drain faster and you wouldn't see all the standing water."

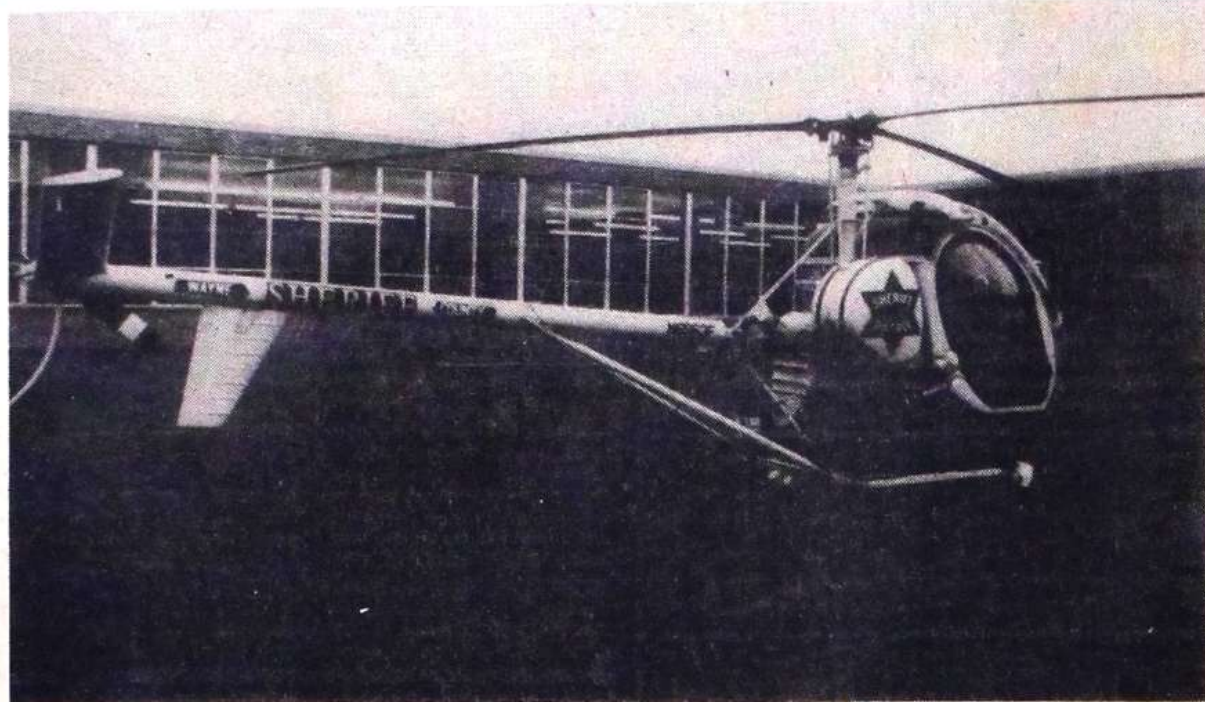

"It would improve the city's health, and boost its ability to drain new developments."

TROUTT also sees a secondary benefit by building the city's own system.

Hundreds of acres of land utilized by the Detroit Metropolitan Airport for storm water holding ponds could be turned back to the city.

"We could buy another 150 acres outside it's fences to hold water," Troutt said. "That purchase wouldn't be necessary and other holding ponds may not be needed, if we had better drainage."

Troutt said he would urge the Romulus City Council to appropriate funds needed for a preliminary study on the Huron River's ability to absorb extra drainage from (Continued on Page A-3)

Gas tax to offset loss

Group backs new road fund

The County Road Association of Michigan has endorsed a proposal to offset decreasing road funds with sales tax revenues from gasoline.

The proposal, expected to be submitted to the Legislature in the next few weeks, would partially overcome an expected loss of $52 million in the coming fiscal year in state, county and municipal highway revenues due to the energy crisis.

Harold Smith, president of the county road group, said every motorist will be affected by serious cutbacks in construction and maintenance because of the anticipated revenue loss.

WHILE MOTOR fuel gallonage has dropped as the result of the gas shortage and voluntary conservation efforts, much higher prices have brought "windfall" gains in the state sales tax revenue. Thus, gas tax income is dropping as sales tax collections from motorists soar.

The plan endorsed by the county road organization proposes to allocate 37.5 percent of sales taxes on gasoline from the general fund to the motor vehicle fund, which is shared by state, county and municipal highway agencies.

This sum, totaling $30 million, would partially offset road fund losses and would not affect the already earmarked proportion of sales taxes, which, under constitutional mandate, go to schools and cities.

As gasoline taxes for roads decline, the Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation is expected to lose $21.4 million in the coming fiscal year while counties will lose $17.2 million and municipalities $9.5 million.

EARL F. Rogers, engineer-director of the County Road Association of Michigan, said the decline in anticipated highway revenues will severely affect road construction and maintenance programs throughout the state. He cited Wayne County, which will lose approximately $3.0 million in road funds while Oakland County faces a cut of $1.6 million.

Rogers said the road fund salvaging proposal, which first was advanced by the Oakland County Road Commission, is being discussed by Michigan highway industry groups and is being reviewed with legislators.

The state's nine cents per gallon gas tax was expected to yield approximately $412 million in the coming fiscal year for the motor vehicle fund.

Due to the cut in motor vehicle use, however, the revenue is expected to drop to $360 million.

Rogers said that the proposal to temporarily allocate $30 million from sales taxes to the road fund represents money paid by motorists.

The higher sales tax revenues to the state result from an average price increase for gas from about 37 cents to approximately 50 cents per gallon.

Chorus prepares for show

The Belleville High School Concert Choir has invited the Belleville community and all choir alumni to join in singing Bach's "Magnificat."

Rehearsals are held on Monday evenings from 7:30 to about 9 p.m. and are being conducted in the choir room at the high school.

The choir's annual spring concert will be held on April 10. All those participating in Monday night rehearsals will perform in the concert. There still are some solo positions to be filled by audition.

Court reschedules hearing in a township bar shooting

The 34th District Court has rescheduled a preliminary hearing of a Belleville man charged with shooting a Sumpter Township resident at a township bar for Feb. 20.

The accused man is Frankie W. Skaggs, 34.

He allegedly shot Bruce Hiser, 31, in an argument on Jan. 28 at the Willis Bar, located at Willis and Sumpter Roads.

Hiser, who suffered a gunshot wound to the neck, is listed in good condition in Ann Arbor's University Hospital.

Skaggs stood mute during arraignment on a charge of felonious assault before Judge James B. Stone on Jan. 29. A plea of not guilty was entered for him by the court.

He was released on a $1,000 bond pending the outcome of a pre-trial examination, which will determine if he should be bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court for trial.

Conviction on the charge carries a maximum penalty of four years in prison.

City, township officials must decide on drains

dam—can hold extra flowage from Romulus and Huron Township.

Officials of both communities and representatives of the Wayne County Road Commission, which operates the Metropolitan Airport in Romulus, will meet this week to decide whether to go ahead with the study.

If the study proves that flow from Romulus and Huron can be absorbed by the river, officials will have to decide whether to go ahead with the "storm interceptor program" before the county undertakes the downriver storm drain program.

ROMULUS HAS 33 square miles which would be served by the storm interceptor, and Huron Township has 15 square miles which would benefit from the program.

Although the "interceptor" proposal would cost $15.5 million, it would amount to a long-term savings in both initial costs and drain maintenance costs in both communities.

Romulus Engineer Ed Orr estimates that the interceptor proposal—a program he designed in the 1960s—would save Huron and Romulus up to one-third of the initial costs of constructing drains inside the communities.

He said the cost savings would be the same for Huron's 15 square miles which would be saved by the interceptor's construction.

INITIAL ESTIMATES on the interceptor's cost call for Romulus to pay $11.5 million, with the Wayne County Road Commission absorbing $2.9 million of that for the Detroit Metropolitan Airport, and Huron to pay $4 million of the construction cost.

Construction of the interceptor, would take approximately one year, under the proposal.

PTA group organizes scouts

Boys in the Gordonier Elementary School area of Romulus have an opportunity to "get in on the ground floor" of a new scout troop being formed at the school.

Meetings are held from 7 to 9 p.m. Fridays at the school. Any youngster aged 10½ and up is eligible to join.

The troop also is accepting donations of used camping equipment.

Donors should contact Dennis Hornyak at 941-1079.

Community leader dies; Fred Miank Jr. is buried

A lifelong Romulus-Belleville resident and community leader, Fred Miank Jr. died Thursday. He was 81.

Mr. Miank, born in Romulus, was the first Ford dealer in Romulus—a business he owned and operated until 1939.

During World War I, he served with Gen. Hohn Pershing's "Doughboys" in France, and took part in some of the heroic Pershing-led campaigns against Kaiser Germany.

OVER THE YEARS, Mr. Miank served as Romulus Township, as a member of the board of education, and on the selective service board during World War II.

In 1921, he organized and served as commander of

FRED MIANK JR.

'Romulus' first American Legion post, and for 50 years was a member of the Grand Lodge F & A.M. He received a 50-year pin from the State Grand Lodge of Michigan last December.

Mr. Miank moved to Belleville nine years ago, but never "lost touch with Romulus"—his birthplace and "hometown." He resided on Savage Road.

The popular and respected Mr. Miank was a frequent visitor to the Enterprise-Roman Editorial office. On his most recent visit, Mr. Miank said: "Just stopping by to make sure you writers say nice things about Romulus and Belleville."

THE AREA'S "goodwill ambassador" often discussed his first work days as a youngster at the Buhl & Son's Company in Detroit.

"In those days you worked for every nickel earned—believe me," he would recall.

He also was founder of the V-8 Hunt Club in 1939 and remained an active member until 1968. An avid conservationist, Mr. Miank always took time to enjoy his favorite hobbies—fishing and hunting.

He also was associated with the Wayne Shriner lodge.

In October, 1970, friends and family members honored the late Mr. Miank and his wife, Ruth, with a 50th wedding anniversary party. Mr. Miank married Ruth R. Rutter on Oct. 2, 1920—She was his "childhood sweetheart."

MR. MIANK is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Archie (Joyce) Lierley of Nebraska, and Mrs. Thomas (Janice) Laine of Belleville; one son, Charles of Romulus; nine grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

Services were conducted from the Baum Funeral Home in Romulus Sunday. Officiating were Rev. Hal Ferris and Charles Laine.

Tickets available for dimes benefit

Tickets are available for a "March of Dimes" benefit dance being sponsored by the Romulus Jaycees March 9.

Tickets, at $8 per couple, will be available through local Jaycees for the dance which will be held at 8 p.m. in the Romulus Progressive Hall.

Admission will include beer and set-ups, and will allow those in attendance to bid on sports equipment autographed by sports celebrities in an auction.

Chairman of the event is Lou Warden and the co-chairman is Lee Silvey.

'Light-way' ball tickets are on sale

Tickets are available for the "Let's Light the Way Ball" scheduled for March 8 at the UAW Local 157 Hall.

Proceeds from the ball, which will feature two live bands and refreshments, will help finance the lighting of a softball field in the Elmer Johnson Park and the football field at Romulus High School.

Tickets are $10 per person and can be obtained by calling either Marilyn Radford at 941-3335 or 941-3336 or Gary Bingaman at 941-0666.

The ball is the first of a series of money raising events scheduled during the next few months to help raise more than $100,000 needed to light both the softball and football field.

The Romulus Sports Fund Development Committee, which is heading the "Light the Way" drive, hopes to raise more than $10,000 through the ball.

The hall, located at 29841 Van Born Rd., Romulus, has been donated for the night. All refreshments and entertainment will be donated.

Mayor Troutt supports plan for storm drain interceptor

Romulus and Huron Township.

HURON TOWNSHIP, Romulus and the Wayne County Road Commission, operators of the airport, would have to commission the study before the Wayne County Drain Commission allows the three governmental bodies to begin engineering on the storm drain interceptor program.

If approved now, the study would take 60 days to complete.

Then the communities and the county governmental body would be faced with a decision to proceed with the alternate program.

"It would mean the communities take over their own drainage maintenance," Troutt said. "I can't see where that would hurt because we'd do a good job, and would collect taxes on a more equitable basis for maintenance."

THE CITY WOULD charge a millage for drain maintenance, while the county now charges for maintenance on a per-acre basis, regardless of the land to worth of land.

Troutt estimates the initial cost of the drainage construction program, which calls for a 200-foot wide basin to be constructed between Inkster and Middlebelt Roads and between Van Born Road and the Huron River would be 5.5 mills, the same levy the city now has for its general fund.

Assists in police work

Breathalyzer is an anti-drunk instrument

(Last of a three part series)

LANSING—The first thing you learn about a breathalyzer is that it is not a machine. It is an instrument. And if you make a mistake by calling it a machine or gadget or anything else, it will cost you a nickel at the training school for breathalyzer operators operated on the Michigan State University campus.

"AN INSTRUMENT IS a device that measures," explains State Police Sgt. Frank Korpai, the man in charge of the breathalyzer program. "That's what the breathalyzer does. It measures the alcohol in a subject's blood."

The breathalyzer takes its name from the fact it analyzes breath.

It is $1,000 worth of instrument in a green steel box roughly 12 inches long, nine inches wide and six inches deep.

Anyone arrested on suspicion of driving under the influence of alcohol in Michigan must take a breathalyzer test under the state's implied consent law or have his drivers license suspended at least three months.

AFTER HE IS TAKEN to the police station, the suspect waits 20 minutes before taking the test. During that time he cannot eat or drink anything and he cannot smoke. That means there is no doubt about alcohol residue in his mouth when he takes the test. After 20 minutes, he is asked to exhale completely into a tube leading into the breathalyzer.

The instrument captures the last 52 cubic centimeters of air exhaled, the air from the deepest part of the lungs. The air is passed through a chemical solution and the instrument measures electronically the degree the solution changes. The more it changes, the more alcohol is present. A needle gives the final reading on alcohol present.

The breathalyzer was introduced in Michigan's fight against the drunk driver in 1967—the same year the Legislature passed an implied consent law saying anyone who drives a car in Michigan automatically gives consent to be tested for drunk driving if he is stopped by police.

IT HAS PRODUCED a sharp increase in arrests and convictions for drunk driving during a period when there was little change in the number of motor vehicles and drivers.

'It's main contribution has been to give the officer more confidence in making an arrest.'

In 1966, the last year of no implied consent and no breathalyzer, there were roughly 10,000 arrests in Michigan for driving under the influence of alcohol. In 1972 there were 35,771 total arrests and during the first 11 months of 1973 there were 32,721 arrests.

The breathalyzer tests showed policemen were correct in their arrests the vast majority of the time. Of those arrested 6,708 refused the test and had their licenses automatically suspended. Of the remainder, 23,667 tested over .10 per cent of alcohol in the blood—meaning they were illegally driving under the influence of alcohol. And 19,054 of those were over the .15 per cent mark.

OF THE REMAINDER, 846 tested at .08 and .09 per cent, meaning they were impaired legally, and the other 1,500 tested at .07 or below. "It's main contribution has been to give the officer more confidence in making an arrest," says Sgt. Korpai. "Before you had to wait for a blood or urine test that might take three or four days to get the results."

In order to become a breathalyzer operator, a police officer must pass an intensive one-week training program administered on the Michigan State campus. The course is offered the first full calendar week of each month and is taught by State Police breathalyzer inspectors.

Students from police and sheriff's departments study the metric system, how the breathalyzer works, drunk driving laws and court precedents, how alcohol affects a driver and how much it takes to affect a driver and, finally, how to administer the breathalyzer test.

THE NICKEL FINE for using the word "machine" is an ice breaker which helps develop some give and take among the students as well as impressing upon them that the breathalyzer is an instrument.

The final class in how to administer the breathalyzer test is a unique experience. On Wednesday afternoon, half the policemen drink and the other half test. They reverse roles on Thursday afternoon. The drinkers are given enough liquor to give them a .10 per cent alcohol content reading if it were drunk and absorbed immediately into the blood stream.

Because the officers take up to an hour to drink their allotment and because the test starts right after lunch and food slows the dissolving of alcohol in the blood stream, the actual readings never get much above .06 per cent. But the men still feel the effects of the alcohol and several were heard saying "If this is .06, it makes you wonder what .15 feels like and how much you have to drink to get there."

IF THE MEN PASS THE WEEK, they become certified breathalyzer operators. Each year they are recertified and re-tested. There are 1,700 breathalyzer operators in Michigan right now.

The breathalyzer isn't the only answer to the drunk driver, of course. But it is a valuable, accurate instrument in the fight to cut down on the drinking drivers who are involved in fatal accidents all out of proportion to their numbers.

And both the police and the non-drinking drivers need every help they can get in that fight.

As we see it

Task force project sparks civic spirit

There's a feeling of community spirit mushrooming in Romulus and appropriately named "Light the Way..."

And the campaign to provide lighting at several city park and stadium sites got underway last week with the formation of a community-spirited task force.

Mel Morgan, chairman of the task force, said the "team" hopes to raise enough funds to install lighting at the Elmer Johnson Park softball diamond, Romulus High School's football field, and a Little League diamond.

The community project has the team support of practically all organizations in Romulus.

We salute those persons and organizations who spearheaded the idea into a well-planned project, and call upon the citizenry to lend their moral and financial support to this worthy project.

In making the announcement last week, Morgan said: "This is our community's first united effort. It has given us new optimism for Romulus."

Often times a project of this sort can unite a community, and in doing so — generate pride and a civic desire to make that community a better place in which to live and work.

The "Light the Way" $100,000 project means more than boasting Romulus has several lighted fields for recreation activity. It tells the youth of Romulus that the adult community wants the best for them in wholesome recreational outlets.

And once that pride sweeps through the recreation fields, it catches on into other areas — such as neighborhood and business development.

The future of Romulus will not spiral overnight. It takes years of work and planning...a step at a time. The first positive step came with the "Light the Way" project and the formation of a task force to lead the team effort.

In recent weeks we've also noticed an increasing use of the private facilities at Metro Airport by outside organizations. They pick the facilities because of the nearby airport and Romulus' "central" western suburban location for conferences and meetings.

An example was the meeting of the Michigan Municipal League and a national youth conference — all in the same week at two of the facilities near the airport.

It may take several years, but we know that one day travelers using the airport's facilities will be afforded the same shopping opportunities in a revitalized Romulus.

We think a successful "Light the Way" project may re-light the future of Romulus.

Buying ballot slot taints the election

State Senator William Faust will admit he expects little support from legislative colleagues on a bill to toughen the filing requirements for public office—but he's going to give it a try.

If we could cast a vote on the floor of the Michigan Senate, we'd be there supporting the senator's proposal—instead, we call upon good government-minded citizens to support the senator.

As cited by the Westland Democrat, all a candidate must do under the present elective system is to file "cold cash" and he or she can get their name on the ballot.

The present law enables a candidate to file $100 in lieu of nominating petitions signed by registered voters in the particular district seeking office. Too often, so-called candidates are "given" the cash just to file and clutter the ballot with resembling names.

Faust says if a candidate is really serious about political office, he or she should be "more than willing to obtain signatures of supporters on nominating petitions."

Chain letters may free MIA's

'You can extend a chain of 'brotherhood'

In the past I've lectured my daughter, Karen, not to take part in so-called "chain letters" that promise "get rich quick" schemes—until the other day.

My support of the latest "chain letter" craze by American teenagers is not a letter of get rich quick, how to make millions—it's a "chain letter of concern" dealing with America's forgotten MIA's (Missing In Action).

And I would encourage other young persons to join the effort to get to the bottom of the MIA mystery.

KAREN'S "CHAIN LETTER" came from Nancy Parsoghian, a 15-year-old Oradell, New Jersey friend she met last summer at a youth camp in Franklin, Mass.

And this time my daughter asked: "Can I send 10 chain letters to help free our MIA soldiers..."

With her permission I'd like to share parts of that letter with you, in hopes that your son or daughter might join the chain letter of concern crusade. The letter reads in part:

"IF YOU WILL give just a little of your time, you can preserve and extend a chain of brotherhood and concern which could release many American families from incredible torture. Most Americans think the POW's are home. More than 50 known POW's were neither released nor accounted for. Their capture was evidenced by pictures in captivity, propaganda broadcasts and a letter sent home.

"The failure of the Communists to account for these men has left over 1,200 other families wondering about their loved ones, still listed as MIA. Writing letters is the only weapon left to gain freedom for our MIA's—and to release their families from the torture of not knowing about their whereabouts.

"Please send this chain letter to 10 people so they may recognize the problem and urge that on March 27 (one year from the date all POW's were supposed to be released) a letter of concern be sent to President Nixon, and one to

'If you will just give a little of your time...'

Premier Phang Van Dong of North Vietnam—expressing your insistence that the North Vietnamese account for all our MIA's.

"PLEASE ADDRESS YOUR letter to Premier Phang Van Dong, Democratic Republic of Vietnam, Hanoi, North Vietnam—and affix a 21 cents overseas air mail stamp.

"You will not receive a million dollars if you keep this chain letter going, you simply will have helped a less fortunate human being."

My daughter's friend added this footnote: "Write soon. Don't send this to the camp kids cause I'm sending it to everyone... spread this letter around there. Love and Care, Nancy.

I know of two area families who suffer the day-to-day pang of distress...waiting for a ray of hope on their missing MIA sons.

AND IF YOU CAN spare a little time between now and March 27, you can help the MIA families of Staff Sergeants Refugio Teran and Gary LaBohn—listed as Vietnam War MIA's.

You can help by writing letters to President Nixon and more so, to the North Vietnamese leader. If letters come from all segments of the American community, the Communists might repent in their repeated claims of innocence in the MIA question.

The Voice in Vital America (VIVA) organization has documented with pictures that some of our MIA's are still being held captive. The pictures were released by the Communists during the height of the peace propaganda push in America.

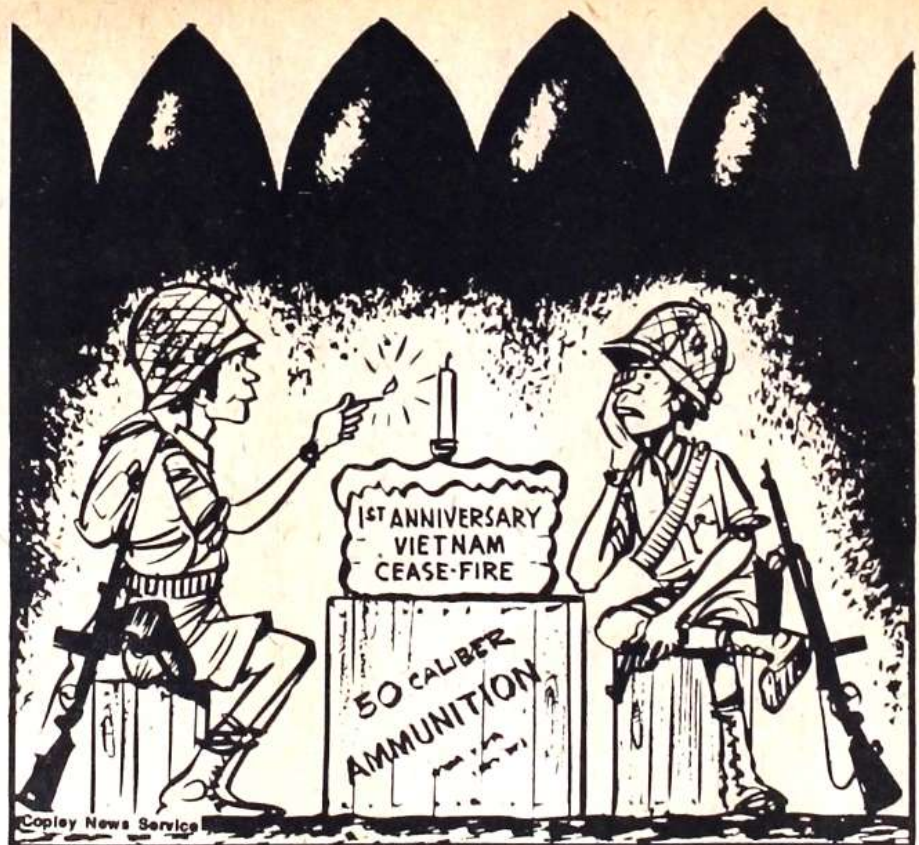

During a recent talk in Wayne, POW Lt. Col. Donald Odell of Mount Clemens said: "When I was captured I saw some of my buddies being led away by the Communists. When they released us, we were told the men were missing in action..."

WE MUST DEMAND a full and accurate accounting of all POW's and MIA's. We must not forsake our men and their families.

We can start with a "chain letter of concern."

Each day the traffic count mounts—from the injury to the fatal column. And the accident count arises from hazardous driving conditions, to excessive speed, poor judgement—and "one for the road."

'Careful with those matches--!'

He likes pinballs

To the Editor: Sometimes I wonder about my fellow adults who seem to forget when they were young in age and enjoyed pinball games.

In last week's Belleville Enterprise I was stunned to read that the city council approved an ordinance to regulate and control pinball machines.

When we were kids it was for fun. Now these same adults (who must be getting old) say pinball machines corrupt our youngsters. In the city of Belleville there's little to do but to go fishing in the summer.

Sorry kids. The older generation is getting old.

Opposes crime tax

To the Editor: I read in a daily newspaper the other day that all the money the government spent to fight crime has been eaten up by administrative work and that crime continues to go up.

Then in your newspaper I read where the county wants me to approve a tax to fight crime in Wayne County. Before they ask me to raise any more taxes, I suggest they start fighting crime in Detroit.

To the Editor: I admire your article, dealing with Trout's "Friends" in office on the front page of the Jan. 17 Romulus Roman. Particularly because the Roman's endorsement of Trout gave him the election.

I will predict that the rest of Trout's administration will provide you with similar subject matter to report. Hoping you will continue to write in your excellent style.

POTTER'S WHEEL—After numerous requests from students in the fine arts class, officials at South Junior High School have acquired a foot-powered potter's wheel. Many students already have tried their hand at making ceramic items, but ninth grader Sandy Flannery gives the wheel a work out while shaping a pot. The wheel is being used as part of the class's instructional equipment.

Law groups sponsor special essay contest

The Michigan State Bar Association in conjunction with Lawyers Wives of Michigan are sponsoring the second annual Michigan Law Day Essay Contest for junior high school students.

The topic for this year's contest is how the United States can keep its good laws, change the bad laws and write better laws.

Students in grades seven through nine are eligible to enter and may receive up to $100 in prizes for their effort.

Entries, consisting of 300 words or less, must be submitted to a "Lawyers Wives" representative by no later than midnight, March 1.

Four winners from each grade level will be selected and will receive either $100, $75, $50 or $25 for their composition.

Criteria for judging the essays will be originality of idea, sincerity of purpose, clarity of expression, accuracy of information, cohesiveness of theme and ability to follow contest directions.

Seniors have day at circus

Two city officials saw that more than 50 Romulus senior citizens attended the Shrine Circus last week at reduced prices.

More than 50 Romulus senior citizens were treated to "a day at the circus" thanks to Romulus Councilman James Stewart and Romulus Building Inspector Norb Czajkowski, who donated more than 50 "reduced price" passes, entitling them to $1 off the regular $3.50 admission.

Some 51 seniors, three supervisors and the bus driver spent a day at the circus Feb. 5.

Romulus coed handles magazine 'publication'

A Romulus resident and a philosophy major at Michigan State University has joined in a student effort to publish the 12th edition of the college's anthology of writings, "Happiness Holding Tank."

Denise Mahalak, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mahalak of 9404 Chamberlain, is among a group of 23 students who will handle the publication of the magazine.

The anthology is a collection of writings, including poetry, essays and public information, adapted to experimental printing methods and distributed to various libraries and to the general public throughout the United States, Canada and England.

The production is part of an English poetry class at the university, which emphasizes poetry appreciation and magazine production.

Albert Drake, the class instructor and the magazine's publisher, for the first time has allowed the students to actively participate in the publication of the anthology.

READYING PUPPET THEATER—Third and fourth grade students at Rawsonville Road Elementary School in Belleville are busy painting the stage portion of their puppet theater for an upcoming production. The students are (from left) Jim Sattler, Brian Bignall and Terri Gutekunst. Miss Jeri Palmer, the teacher and theater designer, lends a hand with the painting. The puppet theater was built and donated by Chuck Redd, a friend of the Palmer family.

Judge seeks court position

A Dearborn Heights judge, Richard D. Dunn, has tossed his hat into the ring as a candidate for one of five Wayne County Circuit Court judgeships, which will be opened this year.

Judge Dunn, who serves in the 20th Judicial District of the state, said he will push for outcounty circuit court facilities in Wayne County, if elected.

"This will not only allow the electors in the out-county area the availability of facilities nearby," he said. "But greatly will reduce the costs of the various city police departments that are being needlessly wasted by virtue of having to travel to the City-County Building to await assignments."

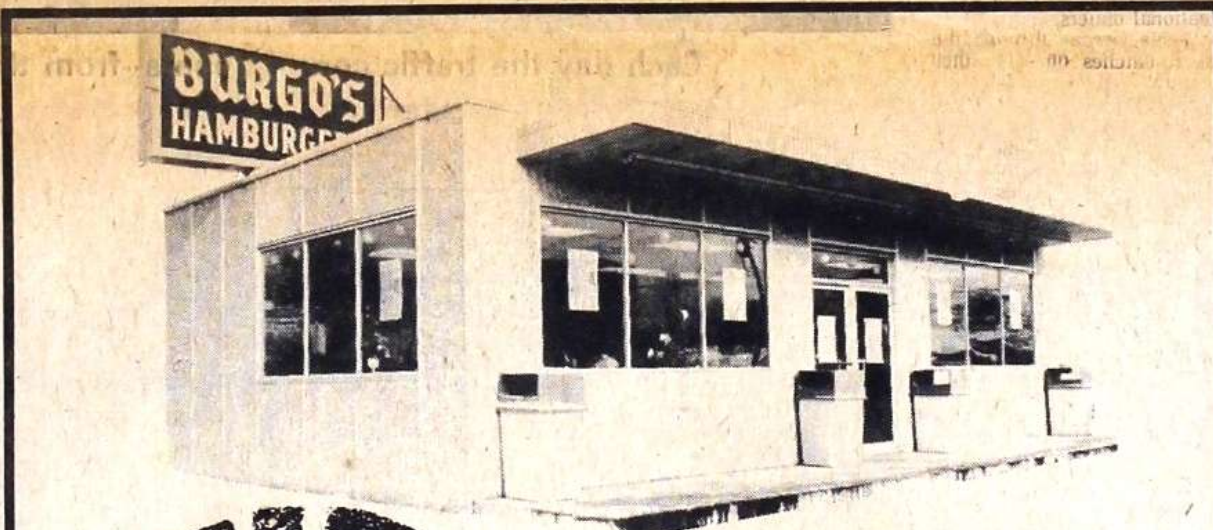

A resident of Western Wayne County for the past 30 years, Judge Dunn served as Dearborn Township attorney for six years and was named to the City of Dearborn Heights' corporation counsel in 1963. He was elected judge for the first time in 1963.

Township proposes joint study

A three-member citizens committee from Huron Township may be working soon with a trio of Romulus citizens in a study of a joint sewer system being proposed for the two communities.

Huron Township Planning Commission Chairman James A. Tillotson said the commission discussed the possibility of such a joint venture between the township and Romulus to study the feasibility of installing a new sewer trunk line from the south end of Romulus to the north end of Huron Township.

Back to nature and good eating

"I cannot tell how my intense interest in nature began, for it was there as early as I can remember....My thirst for knowledge about nature was insatiable..."

Euell Gibbons

In recent years there has been a great renewal of interest in getting back to nature -- camping, fishing, boating, hunting. And for every outdoor adventure there's need for good eating. One of the most important meals is breakfast, and with minimal planning you can easily serve a nutritious breakfast outdoors to help you start the day right.

Post Grape-Nuts Brand Cereal is a familiar ready-to-eat breakfast cereal. These crunchy nut-like cereal nuggets have long enjoyed popularity because of their unique nut-like flavor, crunchy texture, and natural subtle sweetness. They're tasty served just with milk, and also an excellent ingredient in recipes. Spicy Plum Cake, for example -- a delicious coffee cake to bake ahead and take along on your next outdoor adventure. It helps contribute to a healthful breakfast, and is just as mouth-watering for an afternoon pick-up or night time snack.

For some unusual recipes using Post Grape-Nuts Brand Cereal in other ways with tamed versions of several wild foods, send for the free booklet, "The Taming of the Wild", P.O. Box 1013, Kankakee, Illinois 60901.

Spicy Plum Cake

9 medium fresh plums (or use 1 can, 30-oz., purple plums, drained.)
1 cup unsifted all-purpose flour
1 1/2 teaspoons double acting baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup butter or other shortening
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup crunchy nut-like cereal nuggets
3 tablespoons sugar
1 to 1 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon

Halve plums, remove pits and place cut side down on absorbent paper to drain thoroughly. Blend together flour, baking powder, salt, and 3 tablespoons sugar. Cut in shortening. Combine egg and milk. Add to flour mixture and mix only enough to dampen flour. Mix in cereal carefully. Spread evenly in greased 8-inch square oven-proof glass baking dish. Arrange plums, cut side down, on top of dough. Mix 3 tablespoons sugar and the cinnamon and sprinkle over plums. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes. Serve warm with prepared whipped topping, if desired. Makes 9 servings.

Elliotts get away; week-end in Bahamas

GETTING AWAY from it all (the chilblains, snow, slush) for a long week-end recently were the Joseph E. Elliotts of Robson Road, Belleville, who enjoyed a few days in the warmth of the Bahamas.

Circling the last week-end in January for their mid-winter respite, the couple jetted down to Miami, then boarded the S.S. Emerald Seas for the trip to Nassau where they mingled with their shipmates and took part in cruise activities.

On shore their day-time itinerary included a trip on the famous glass bottom boats, a stop at Paradise Island and a tour of the straw market and many shops on Bay Street in Nassau. After dark the calypso music and steel drummers plus the limbo artists were the main attractions at the night clubs.

Aunt hosts shower for Sherry Tontalo

SHERRY TONTALO, whose wedding date is just a couple weeks away, was the honored guest February 3 at a miscellaneous shower given by her aunt, Mrs. Gwen Henderson of Dearborn. Some 41 guests traveled from the Irish Hills, Inkster, Lincoln Park, Wayne, Warren, Dearborn, Garden City, and Belleville for the occasion.

Bellevillites attending were the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. John Tontalo, her mother and sister, Mrs. Robert Tontalo and Becky, and also Mrs. Grace Mullreed, Mrs. Lillie Burger and daughter, Donna, Mrs. Elaine Stabnau and daughter, Suzie, Mrs. Sue Zuroff, Mrs. Beth Nota, and Mrs. Pat Butler.

A number of pencil games were played with prizes for the winners and the house award going to the bride-elect's twin, Mrs. Sandy Ammon of Belleville. She wore the lucky numbered little pink felt umbrella which had been pinned on each guest as she arrived.

The hostess used a pink and white color scheme for her party and suspended a colorful Japanese parasol over the gift table. When Sherry opened her presents, she was helped by her future bridal attendants, Sandy Ammon, Loretta Francis of Lincoln Park and June Laskowski from Ann Arbor.

A sit-down luncheon followed with each of the tables centered with a miniature bride surrounded by flowers.

Sherry and her future husband, Dennis Ferris of Dearborn Heights, have reserved St. Anthony's Catholic Church for their March 1 altar date.

Open house set for February 17

THE FAMILY of Mr. and Mrs. John Crosby will host an open house Sunday, February 17, in observance of the couple's 65th wedding anniversary.

The Crosbys, who reside at 48460 Dora Court, Belleville, will be honored at the Moose Lodge, Belleville, from two to four in the afternoon. Their many friends are invited to stop by and congratulate the pair.

Erharts plan move to West Coast

FORMER AREA resident, Dean A. Erhart, will be off on his third visit to Marina de Rey in Los Angeles this week where he will take part in a three-week training course with Ampex Corporation. He accepted a position with the company eight months ago and will work as a computer engineer.

Dean and his wife, the former Nancy Fox Westling, were both in California for two months this past summer looking for a future home and also taking in such sites as Disneyland and Marineland and all the attractions around Hollywood. They also enjoyed a drive to San Francisco, crossing over the famous Golden Gate Bridge and visiting China Town, Fisherman's Wharf and Alcatraz.

The Erharts currently reside in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio and will be transferred to the West Coast early next year.

Here 'n there... around the town

THE PETER KNYSZ family of Huron River Drive, Romulus, had their four-month old granddaughter and niece, Kelly Marie, as a houseguest for two days recently. Her visit was prompted by a business meeting in Chicago which her parents, John and Mary Lou Knysz of Plymouth, were invited to attend. John, who works for Central Scientific Company, received first prize for regional sales for the past year.

THE JAMES BELLS of Romulus have returned home after an absence of three weeks, most of which was spent in Mobile, Alabama with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henley Tucker. The Bells were among family members who flew or drove in to celebrate the Tucker's golden wedding anniversary. They also spent time with her sister and husband, the Ross Kendrickses, and friends, Jerry and Sally Bowen, all of Mobile.

Looking back...

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

The second in our monthly series of nostalgic 'reruns' begins with a February 7, 1973 date and with Mrs. Mary Nazarchuk of New Boston gracing our front pages. Pictured with her four daughters, Mrs. N. was proudly holding the diploma she'd earned in education at Eastern Michigan University—a goal the 40-year old housewife and substitute teacher had set for herself.

Other members of the distaff side included in the first of four February issues were the women who'd volunteered to act as area chairmen for the annual Girl Scout cookie sales. Barbara Jorgensen handled Belleville's orders while Michele Renke took over in Romulus and Mrs. William Wallace and Mrs. Peter Hogber in New Boston.

In the Suburban Living section there were six engagements announced and one wedding reported, that of Linda Brown and Mark Badito; Denise Welt had been installed as Worthy Advisor for Belleville Rainbow for Girls; and the Charles Eldridges of Romulus had a triple-decker celebration at their home marking his retirement, his 65th birthday and their 39th wedding anniversary.

And here's a bit of nostalgia that'll bring tears to the eyes of all my fellow bargain hunters—eggs were on sale at Foodville for only 39 cents a dozen; chuck steaks were 89 cents a pound; five pounds of sugar was 59 cents; and 10 pounds of potatoes were only 59 cents. Sob...

FRONT PAGE items in the Valentine Day edition of our paper included a picture of Diane Mroz, daughter of the Leonard Mrozs of Belleville, who'd been nominated by the student body at Cleary College as a candidate for Queen of the Sweetheart Ball, the school's annual February gala.

Also in the good news department were Lillian Kuzel of Belleville and Margaret Moore of Romulus who were two of the three area residents eligible for Michigan's million dollar lottery drawing. Alas, neither became a millionairess over night.

Van Buren's physical fitness program was in full swing with local enthusiasts captured in action by our photographer; the Belleville Community Players had announced 'The Gazebo' as their choice for a March curtain date; and Virginia Carmichael began her 30th year with the Van Buren School system.

Roberta Bauman and James Emerick said their 'I do's' at St. Paul's while Pamalee Reeve became Mrs. Roger Macon in Auburn, New York. And five more area couples announced wedding intentions.

Dolores Ristow of Romulus was the lone femme in the group photo on page three. As executive director of Metro International Airport Chamber of Commerce, she was shown with two representatives from Kelsey-Hayes who'd made the firm's commitment in the Chamber official at special membership ceremonies.

And are you ready for more sob-stuff? Ted's IGA Market ad included such goodies as pork chops for 98 cents a pound and chuck roast at 78 cents.

POW'S RETURNING from Hanoi were the nation's big news last winter and Debbie Bettenbender of Romulus discovered the bracelet she'd been wearing for so long bore the name of Captain Jeremiah A. Denton, Jr., the first man to step from the plane which flew the first 115 American prisoners of war to Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines. Her picture graced the front page of the February 21 issue.

Also front-paging it were the trio of Romulus Junior High-ers who were preparing for their annual science fair—Ken Sims sharing the camera's results with Sharon Stefanski and Loretta Vickerman.

Golden wedding bells were pealing for the Horace Barretts of Belleville and a pair of engagements were announced.

Smoked hams at Vesco's were only 65 cents a pound with Miracle Whip unbelievably low and a mere 38 cents per quart.

THE FINAL RUN of the Enterprise and Roman featured Ms. Leslie Heinstadt of Romulus being shown the basics of welding by her instructor William Barnes. Ms. H. was the first woman to take the class in the Continuing Education Program at Romulus High.

Huron High senior Mary Bialas, daughter of the John L. Bialas of Belleville, was chosen as her school's DAR Girl.

North Junior High's varsity and J.V. cheerleaders added a pleasant youthful touch to the Suburban Living pages when their picture appeared. Presenting their sponsors with a special cake and gifts, they said their thank-yous to Ms. Mary Baribeau and Ms. Harriet McKenzie for their help during the year.

Jan Springer and her husband, Jim, (who own and operate Gambles of Belleville) were among the new Chamber of Commerce members pictured.

And bargains at Vesco's that week were four rolls of toilet tissue - 29 cents and three pounds of Crisco - 68 cents.

And that's it for the social highlights and 'women in the new's in February, 1973.

Airline aims at student fare

The energy crisis hasn't caused any cutbacks at Yogi Airlines, America's smallest air service. According to the owner, Bill Tarrasky, a University of Rochester student who is also the pilot, reservations clerk and mechanic, Yogi Airlines doesn't even own a plane.

Tarrasky, a flying buff, rents planes from a local flying club whenever he has enough passengers for the same town, and divides the costs and landing fees among them.

"Yogi Airlines has carried more than 40 University of Rochester students since September, but it's a nonprofit operation," said Tarrasky. "It helps me log flying time for my commercial license, and enables students to travel cheaply."

Useful spatulas

Flexible rubber spatulas, sometimes called scrapers, come in two sizes—wide and narrow. The wide spatulas do a good job of scraping out a large bowl; the narrow spatulas are used for small bowls or cups. Using these spatulas will help you conserve every bit of batter, soup, sauce or whipped cream!

E.R.A. gaining--two more states okay bill

With ratification victories in Maine and Montana this week, pro-Equal Rights Amendment forces have been given a sizeable push. Only six more states must ratify the amendment before it can become part of the U.S. Constitution, and 18 states are to consider the amendment in 1974 and 1975.

The second big push for the amendment came in monetary form. The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., a 30-year leader in support of the amendment, announced the results of its first six months fund-raising for ratification of ERA. With $167,560 already collected and a goal of $250,000 to be met by the organization's July 1974 convention, BPW hopes to combat the mis-information that has sparked opposition to a constitutional amendment guaranteeing women equality of rights under the law.

Jean L. McCarrey, BPW's National President, believes that ERA will be ratified this year and that BPW's fund will help to get the job done. The money will be used to develop campaign materials, to send speakers to target states, to expand the activities of ERA coalitions, and to assist with other pro-ratification efforts.

"MANY OF THE claims that the opponents have made concerning ERA—that it will mandate the drafting of ALL women for COMBAT positions, for instance—are simply mis-informed," says Miss McCarrey. "Opponents are appealing to people's fears rather than presenting the issues clearly and rationally. Our fund will be used to bring the facts about equal rights under the law to the voters and to the legislators who represent them. This will be our campaign."

Thirty-two states have already ratified the Equal Rights Amendment, which was passed by the U.S. Congress in March, 1972. The amendment provides that sex should not be a factor in determining the legal rights of men and women. It would take effect two years after its ratification date, giving individual states time to see that their laws conform to the amendment. It applies only to governmental actions. Private relationships between men and women would not be affected.

In addition to BPW, the Equal Rights Amendment is supported by such varied groups as the AFL-CIO, Common Cause, the National Secretaries Association, both the Republican and Democratic parties, the American Bar Association, Church Women United, the Inter-collegiate Association of Women Students, the National Education Association, and many others.

The states which are expected to consider ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment before the end of 1975 are: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Utah, and Virginia.

Debbie Poet is January bride

The First Congregational Church in Benzonia, Michigan was the setting January 17 for the marriage of Debra Lee Poet and John T. Love who exchanged double ring vows before the Rev. Murray Sleeper.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Poet of Honor, formerly of Belleville and Romulus, are parents of the bride who chose for her wedding day a white nylon dotted swiss gown flocked with pink, blue and gold flowers and styled with short, puffed sleeves and an A-line skirt. The little nosegay she carried was comprised of pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath tied with white velvet streamers.

Attending the couple were

Mr. and Mrs. James Love, the bridegroom's brother and sister-in-law. Mrs. Love donned a lavender polyester frock and carried a single rose accented with matching ribbons.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Love of Benzonia, the bridegroom was graduated from Benzonia Central High School and is employed at Jim's Service in Benzonia. Debbie is in her senior year at Benzonia High.

Due to the illness of the bridegroom's father, there was no wedding reception. The newlyweds, who are making their home in Benzonia, spent their honeymoon in Northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula.

The Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman offer bridal questionnaires for you to fill out as well as engagement forms for announcing the 'start of it all.'

Welcome Wagon adds two area hostesses

Two area women will assume the position of Welcome Wagon hostesses for the Belleville area and recently completed a course of special training conducted at the city of Woodhaven.

UM co-ed pledges Chi Omega

Linda Bradham of Romulus, a sophomore at the University of Michigan, recently pledged Chi Omega Sorority.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Bradham of 17707 Telegraph Road, Romulus, she is a 1972 graduate of Southgate High School and is majoring in science and special education.

Hams in history

Ancient Romans and Chinese are known to have produced special hams far back in the pages of history. In fact, it's said that the first "country" hams were processed by the Romans in Gaul. In China, where wild hogs supposedly were first domesticated around 2900 B.C., hams were cured in a yellow wine brine, smoked over tea leaves to add exotic flavor, and dried in the wind. Curing and smoking of meat became highly developed practices because these were the only methods available for preserving meat.

The two new Welcome Wagon hostesses are Mrs. Robert Hill of 44201 Harmony Lane and Mrs. Edward Cabler of 2119 Margery St., Ypsilanti. The Cabler family expects to move to Belleville within a few months.

The women are two of 8,000 Welcome Wagon hostesses who make more than a million calls annually on families in cities throughout the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico and the United Kingdom.

On behalf of business sponsors, Welcome Wagon calls on families when they move into a new home. Welcome Wagon's basic policy is service — service to the family and the community. A most important part of Welcome Wagon calls deal with civic and religious information especially designed to be of help to the family.

Welcome Wagon service is one not only of public relations but more important, it meets a present day need in the field of human relations.

Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Cabler will extend to the families upon whom they call the hand of friendship and helpfulness for which Welcome Wagon has been known for more than four decades.

The new hostesses know the Belleville community. Mrs. Cabler was a teacher and substitute teacher in the Van Buren Public School System when her family lived in Belleville before moving to Alaska and Guam where they have lived for the past six years.

Trains may be funded

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) has introduced a series of bills to create a state grade crossing safety fund and to give the Public Service Commission increased authority over railroad grade crossings.

The fund would be used to reimburse local highway authorities for their shares of the cost of installing or maintaining safety devices at grade crossings. The local authorities would have to apply for reimbursement through the Department of State Highways and Transportation, which would administer the fund and establish rules for granting financial assistance. Under the Mahalak proposals, the highway grade crossing safety fund would receive $2.4 million a year from the motor vehicle highway fund.

"When it is a matter of public safety and railroad grade crossings must be reconstructed, altered, relocated or improved, the local unit of government may be assessed a share of the cost," Mahalak said. "This can be a burden, particularly in those areas with extraordinary numbers of rail grade crossings. This is unfair to local people. These costs should be paid by the state-at-large through a special state fund, and not unloaded upon the local units."

Under one of the bills in the package, the Public Service Commission would have to approve of any new grade crossing; would have the right, after a hearing, to abolish grade crossings, if they are a hazard to public safety; and could order reconstruction, alterations or relocation of a crossing.

It also could close off and barricade a road at an abolished crossing; could order a railroad to acquire property for a crossing alteration or relocation; and could order the separation of grades at a crossing.

Mahalak, who is a member of the House Committee on Public Safety, said that "the purpose of these additional powers for the Public Service Commission is to halt public hazards and eliminate what I consider an unnecessary loss of life, injuries and property damage."

Another bill would encourage railroads to convey right-of-ways along abandoned tracks to the state, which would maintain them for future railroad use and as property for public recreational purposes.

Officials approve dog plan

Van Buren Township has joined with Sumpter Township in an effort to help the latter community solve its dog problems.

The township has approved an agreement, which leases a portion of the Van Buren dog pound to Sumpter for 30 days with an option to renew for another 30 days if the agreement works out satisfactorily.

The charge to Sumpter Township, according to the agreement, is $30 per month, plus $1.75 per dog per day. The cleaning of the temporary quarters at the dog pound and the feeding of impounded dogs will be the responsibility of Sumpter Township.

There will be an added charge of $20 to Sumpter for the disposal of its unclaimed dogs.

During January, Van Buren Township Dog Pound impounded 82 dogs, issued 37 violations of the township dog ordinance and investigated nine dog bite reports, issuing warrants in five cases.

Twelve dogs were returned to their owners in January.

Council approves new code

The Belleville City Council unanimously approved the adoption of the revised "1971 National Electrical Code and Supplements" as the city's electrical code.

The council's action was based on the recommendation of the city's electrical board.

In other action at the recent meeting, councilman Kenneth Palmer was appointed the city's street administrator for Department of State Highway and Transportation reports.

State honors voc ed

Following a proclamation by Gov. William G. Milliken, local school districts are observing Vocational Education Week now through Saturday.

According to a spokesman for the Wayne County Intermediate School District, the observance is geared to calling attention to the merits and accomplishments of vocational education.

Parents and teachers have been asked by the district to become better informed on the various vocational programs and on-going projects at local schools.

"Young people and adults today face a tremendous task of selecting career development programs," a spokesman for the school district said.

"Careful investigation and observation are necessary for the potential student to choose the career training program which will provide the most satisfying and rewarding career."

Groups to honor scientist

The Detroit Public Library and the Copernicus Observances Committee, Inc., are sponsors of a dual dedication ceremony for a bronze bust of Polish astronomer, Mikolaj Kopernik, and a mosaic by Frank Varga.

Both items have been donated to the City of Detroit and to the Detroit Public Library by the observances committee, a coalition of nine area Polish-American organizations.

The ceremonies will take place at 11:30 a.m. Feb. 20, at the Detroit Public Library. The brief program will be concluded with a champagne reception.

The Rev. Arthur H. Krawczak, Auxiliary Bishop of Detroit, will give the invocation.

Gov. William G. Milliken will perform the unveiling ceremonies and will be assisted by Dr. W. J. Kapryan, director of Launch Operations for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Rev. Joseph J. Kubik, president of the Copernicus Observances Committee, Inc., will make the presentation of the gifts to Mrs. Clara Jones, director of the Detroit Public Library.

School's aides to unionize

Paraprofessionals and teacher aides, employed by the Romulus Community Schools, have voted 37 to 26 to join the Michigan Federation of Teachers of the AFL-CIO.

The election was supervised by the Employment Relations Commission of the Michigan Department of Labor.

The federation will represent those employees who work more than 15 hours per week for the school district. The union, however, does not represent lunchroom, recess and clerical aides and other employees.

Travel souvenirs add much to home's decor

Travel memories can be a large part of life. But if pleasure travel is restricted soon, which it could well be due to the energy crisis, last year's vacation may have to carry a lot of us through the next few years.

Since the mind travels more quickly than 50 miles per hour, you can "leave home" in spirit at least, by tastefully duplicating a memorable holiday in home decorating. The stimulus of past travel can re-create an idyllic scene of peace and contentment into imaginative reality.

BUT DRAMATIC rooms don't just "happen." A former happy vacation time comes alive again and again for a designer, Louisa Cowan. She fills her kitchen and dining "tropic paradise" with a collection of sea shells gathered one fun-filled month in the south.

The fun of collection paid off when Mrs. Cowan was able to use a variety of shells to trim the mirror over the desk area—a focal point for her choice of accessories.

Wicker furniture blends with the "everywhere" baskets—some of which hang filled with greenery and the colorway of the carpeting in the dining area restates the "island hide-away" color scheme. Versatile natural-finish storage units complete the scheme.

Even though kitchens are not only utilitarian, but a place for self-expression, the amenities still count. Mrs. Cowan chose a practical escape from drudgery in her "great escape" kitchen.

THE NO-WAX floor in a surf-washed pebble design is a joy to care for. Periodic detergent washing is all that's necessary to keep the surface bright and shiny.

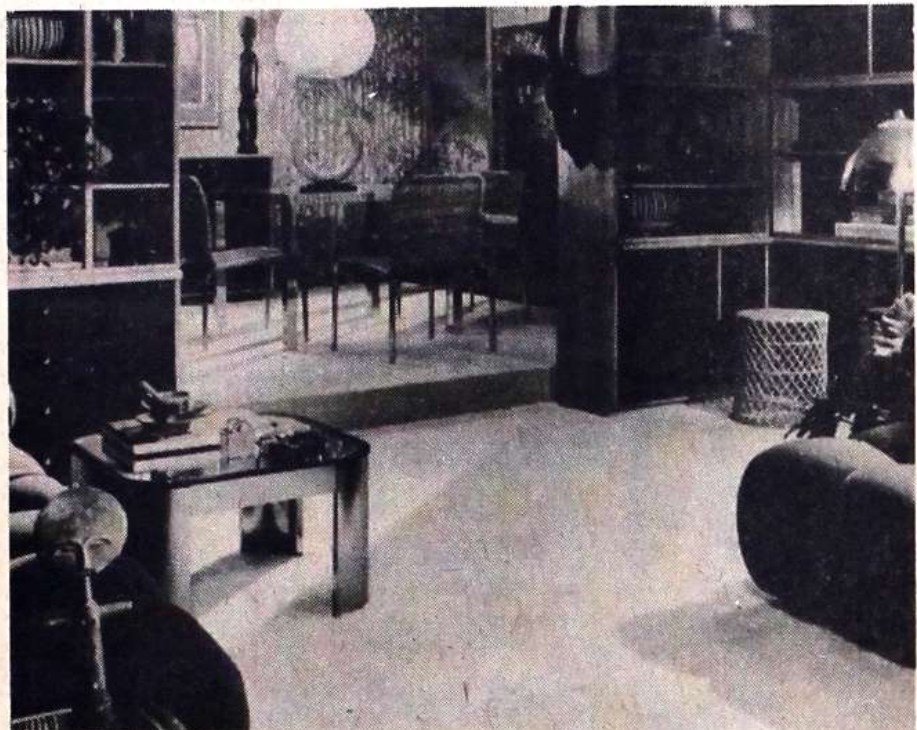

Good taste, like good design, doesn't just happen. It rests on a solid foundation of awareness, open-mindedness, observation and criticism. In short, it calls for a lot of experience made fruitful by the desire to improve ourselves and the things with which we live.

Travel, exposure to other's people's mores and habits—ways of going about and living with and creating things—is one of the more ideal educations.

A safari to Africa may not have ever been your "trip," but those who have made the scene have brought home to others an appreciation of ethnic sculpture, pottery and marvelous hand-woven fabrics.

ARTFULLY displayed in Mrs. Cowan's living room, they bring bold, primitive form to low-keyed contemporary decors.

And—to intrigue the eye—a balance of high and low placement, light and dark pieces, add to the cultural ambience.

GREAT ESCAPE — Egyptian boxes, Ethiopian pottery, mounted animal horns and sculptures of "The Noble Savage" revive the safari — that great adventure that might have been part of a "Great Escape," and to properly display the memorabilia of a fabulous vacation, a designer chooses luxurious carpeting as a subtle but chic background.

Buffet and picture patterns available

Western Wayne County residents who want to add distinction to their decor, be it traditional or contemporary, can build this buffet.

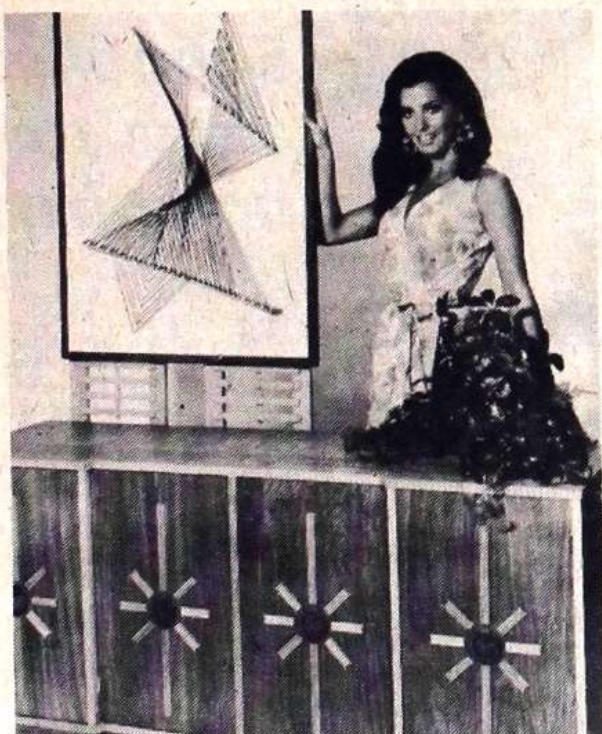

It's a handy servant in the dining room, according to its designer, Steve Ellingson. It can be made wide enough to serve an entire buffet dinner. However, its main purpose is to store linens, silver and dinnerware.

Of course, it's also ideal as a liquor cabinet and it could house a television set or stereo unit, he added.

Area residents who are puzzled over what to do with the plain walls in their home or apartment, should consider making a modern three-dimensional picture.

This picture is artistically striking, colorful and adds just the right touch of glamor, Ellingson said. The only materials required are a piece of celotex for the background, moulding for the frame, map tacks and yarn. The yarn (any color combination) is wound around the tacks to give the abstract geometric design shown.

To obtain the buffet pattern No. 412 for $1.50 or the abstract picture pattern No. 413 for $1 (add 25 cents per pattern for airmail delivery) send cash, check or money order to: Steve Ellingson, Associated Newspapers Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 2383, Van Nuys, Calif. 91409.

DISTINCTIVE DECOR — Western Wayne County residents who want to add distinction to their decor, be it traditional or contemporary, can build this buffet, according to the designer, Steve Ellingson. He offers the buffet pattern or the pattern for the abstract picture to area residents.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Winston Churchill said, "Nothing is more costly, nothing is more sterile, than vengeance." Let's look at his words in connection with George Washington.

Washington faced wide dissension, was even ridiculed and contemptuously criticized during his dark hours at Valley Forge. His patriotic dedication and untiring fortitude enabled him to endure those trying days. In what was perhaps a moment of resentment, he wrote Congress, "I can assure those gentlemen, that it is easier and less distressing thing to draw remonstrances in a comfortable room by a good fireside, than to occupy a cold, bleak hill, and sleep under frost and snow, without clothes or blankets. However, although they seem to have little feeling for the naked and distressed soldiers, I feel superabundantly for them, and, from my soul, I pity those miseries, which it is neither in my power to relieve or prevent."

When at last, victory was his, he extended his hand and heart in friendship to his critics and antagonists. He held no grudge. His lack of vengeance certainly helped him become our first President by unanimous vote. Washington's birthday should remind us vengeance is NOT an American heritage.

left the sidewalk to journey in the water at the photographer's suggestion, however, most small children "take the plunge" without a suggestion from an adult who wants to illustrate the need for good waterproof clothing in these times of snowfall and thawing.

Trains need more aid to improve services

By MARVIN L. ESCH
U.S. Congressman
Second District

It is clear that the effects of our energy shortage will necessitate a much greater expansion of rail service not only in Michigan, but throughout the country.

Congress has recognized this need and passed legislation to stabilize the northeast rail system to provide greater authorization for Amtrak and subsidies for urban mass transit and to allow states to utilize highway funds for the construction of mass transit systems.

However, this will not automatically change our rail system into models of efficiency, courtesy and inexpensive transportation. One area that I believe needs special attention is passenger service between Port Huron and Chicago.

I RECENTLY wrote Robert Lewis, president of Amtrak, urging that train service be extended to cover this route. Others have joined in calling for implementation of this service including Gov. William Milliken.

State and federal officials constantly are reminded by justifiably disgruntled users of rail service of the shortcomings of present service. For example, I recently received a letter from a constituent who complained that the rail service he encountered during the Christmas holidays was an abomination.

Trains between Detroit and Chicago have been delayed up to 13 hours, and passengers were sometime forced to stand in the aisles during the trip in cars in which the temperature ranged from frigid to torrid.

My constituent's chief concern was that bad experiences, such as these, would force travelers to return to automobiles, regardless of the cost of gasoline and the inconvenience of travel when fuel is scarce.

I CERTAINLY share his concern and would hope that increased federal support for rail transit would encourage a transformation of our poor passenger rail service. It is clear that it can be done when one considers the excellent rail service provided by the Canadian National Railroad and other rail companies abroad.

I hope that those of us who look forward to improved rail service will persevere and not take the current lack of adequate rail service as an omen of things to come. With proper support and guidance, the situation at the national and local levels can only improve.

Schools post injureless year

The administration and the employees of the Van Buren Public School District recently were honored for working a full year without a single compensable injury.

This "outstanding" safety achievement was recognized by the school district's insurance carriers, Sentry Insurance, through the presentation of a safety plaque at a meeting with School Supt. Dale E. Kaulitz and the business manager, Irvin Von Destinon.

In making the presentation, Arnold Martin, Sentry Insurance Loss Control Engineer, said that the school board was "one of a very select group reporting not one compensable injury during the year."

"This achievement is outstanding, because of the splendid cooperation between the administration and employees, which brought immeasurable benefits in the way of fewer injuries, less pain and suffering, less waste of time and materials and greater production," he said.

Kaulitz and Von Destinon, in accepting the plaque for the board of education, attributed the record "to the combined effort of each and every employee in the Van Buren School District."

Huron High conducts GED equivalency test

The General Education Development (GED) test, commonly called the high school equivalency examination, will be administered at the Huron High School.

The test makes it possible for women and men who have left school without receiving their diplomas to receive an equivalency certificate.

Huron High School also will offer credits toward a high school diploma upon successful completion of the examination. Testing begins at 6 p.m. Monday and Tuesday.

The Test is free, if the individual is enrolled in the high school's adult education classes or is a resident of the Huron School District. However, the cost is $15 for persons from out side of the district and not enrolled in the program.

For further information call Roger Benner, community-school director, or Mrs. Chris Fields at 782-2441 from 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. and 782-1436 from 6 and 10 p.m.

Good guys play villain roles

"What's a nice guy like you doing in a part like that?" is a question that seems to follow Bill Loyd around.

A member of the Belleville Community Players, Loyd has been cast in the part of Roat in the theater group's production of "Wait Until Dark."

Although his roll calls for him to be a murderer, who relishes mental anguish and physical pain, in real life the young man is a biology teacher at South Junior High School and involved in numerous community service projects.

LOYD RECENTLY announced his resignation as head of the Van Buren recreation program, but will continue to serve in that capacity until his replacement is named.

He also serves as treasurer of the Van Buren Education Association and as a member of the unit's fact-finding group.

When not involved in community activities, his hobbies cover photography, musical instruments and poetry.

When asked how he feels about playing the heavy in the production, Loyd is quick to answer that he is "turned on" by the part.

According to Loyd, Roat is many parts in one—ranging from calculating villain; the mastermind behind a plot to recover a heroin-filled doll; a schizophrenic maniac and a man of many faces.

In his role he is called on to play the part of an aging restaurant owner, the part of Harry Roat Sr. Moments later he switches to become the reserved executive-type Harry Jr.

Although Loyd has performed in several comedies and operettas, this is his first dramatic role. His enthusiasm for it is evident, when he says that the one disappointment is that the show will only run two days.

In the play his partners in crime, Carlino and Mike Talmar, add to the spine-chilling suspense.

Like Bill, the actors also are "good guys."

TOM BRANSCOMB plays Carlino, the brawn of the group. His role calls for him to be a gunman of experience with murder as his game.

He carries out his orders efficiently, but without much intelligence.

Off stage, Branscomb is a student at Eastern Michigan University, majoring in business. His leisure time is spent in scouting activities, flying and sky diving.

Jim Fitch handles the role of Talmar, rounding out the criminal three-some. A teacher at Haggerty Elementary School and a basketball coach in his spare time, Fitch's role calls for him to deceive Susy, the target of the entire criminal plan, and to give the order for her murder.

THESE THREE "Dr. Jekylls" will become "Mr. Hyde" at 8:30 p.m. on Feb. 22 and 23 at the Belleville High School Auditorium when the Belleville Community Players present "Wait Until Dark."

Tickets for the play cost $2 for adults and $1 for students.

TAKE THAT — Charlene Lobb and Bill Loyd rehearse a scene from the upcoming Belleville Community Players' production of "Wait Until Dark." Miss Lobb plays the role of Susy, a blind girl, while Loyd handles the role of Roat, one of her three nemises. The play will be staged at Belleville High School on Feb. 22 and 23.

Chamber has theater party

The Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a chamber party on Feb. 23.

Members of the chamber and their guests will meet at 8:30 p.m. at the Belleville High School Auditorium to see a presentation of "Wait Until Dark," sponsored by the Belleville Community Players.

Following the play, the chamber will hold an "Afterglow" in the Rogalle's Banquet Room, located at Haggerty Road and the I-94 Expressway.

Chamber president John Barber said the group will also meet with chamber members to discuss their organization and goals set by the group.

The cost of the party is $4. Tickets may be obtained at the chamber office, 152 Main St., Belleville.

Romulus hosts free instruction

A free introductory lecture on transcendental meditation will be offered at 8 p.m. Feb. 20 at Romulus High School.

Under the instruction of former Romulus teacher Patty Kancierz, the lecture will cover the benefits of the meditation.

The lecture is sponsored by the Adult Education program of the Romulus School District and will be held in Room 106 at the high school.

Mothers club hosts card party

Because of an unusual amount of spring activities in the Belleville area, the St. Anthony's Mothers Club will be holding their annual card party at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

The party will be held at the Fr. Folta Building, 409 W. Columbia, Belleville.

Activities for the party include card and buncos games, door prizes and refreshments. Tickets cost $1.50 and may be purchased at the door.

Resident performs in comedy

A Belleville resident recently performed in the presentation of "Black Comedy" by the McPherson College Players.

She is Janet Brumbaugh, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Brumbaugh of 49671 W. Huron River Dr., Belleville.

Miss Brumbaugh is a freshman at the college which is located in Kansas.

Nursery plans Valentine party

A Valentine Day Party under the sponsorship of the Huron Country and Cooperative Nursery will be held tomorrow at the Huron Elementary School, 24820 Merriman Rd., New Boston.

The party at the nursery will be conducted at the school from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m. and again at 12:30 to 2:45 p.m.

Funeral rites held for accident victim

Funeral services for Albert G. Sobolewski Jr., 38, of 33 Wabash St., Belleville, who was fatally injured in the area's first snowmobile accident, were held at 10 a.m. yesterday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church, following a brief service at Roberts Bros. Funeral Home in Belleville.

Burial services were conducted at Michigan Memorial Park Cemetery near Flat Rock.

Wayne County Sheriff's Department deputies said that Sobolewski was killed when his snowmobile struck the rear of a car on Bemis Road just east of Rawsonville Road in Van Buren Township at 12:24 a.m. Saturday.

The car, driven by Johnny Lee Willard, 22, of 131 N. Edgemont St., Belleville, was stopped alongside the roadway when the accident occurred, police said.

Mr. Sobolewski is survived by his mother, Mrs. Frances Sobolewski; a son, Albert G. Sobolewski, two brothers, Harry and Robert, and two sisters, Mrs. Virginia Car-naham and Mrs. Marian Reynolds, all of Belleville.

Resident of Belleville writes 'deceit' poem

A Belleville resident recently wrote a poem called "An Ocean of Soap and Water." William H. Carr's poem deals with deceitful practices. He lives at 8701 Belleville Rd.

An Ocean of Soap and Water

There are people who spend their lifetime
Practicing lies and deceit,
They only know one trend of thought
And that is "How to Cheat."

To outward appearance you'd never guess
That they were of this kind.
"And an ocean of soap and water
Can't cleanse a sinful mind."

They go to church on the Sabbath
And sit in the very first row,
And they have a look of smug content
"They put on quite a show."

But deep inside they know the truth
And someday they will find
That "An ocean of soap and water
Can't cleanse a sinful mind."

Local Jaycee collects group's monthly honor

Romulus resident Gary Johnson recently was honored as "External Jaycee of the Month" for February by the "Jaycee Michigander," the state Jaycee publication.

Johnson, a past president of the Romulus Jaycees, was chosen for his involvement in the Jaycee-sponsored movie program, the Romulus Recreation Department and the Romulus PTA and for his work in the annual Jaycee Legislature Day in Lansing. He is employed as a programmer with the Ford Motor Company Credit Union. He is married and the father of one child.

Tigers 'ride darkhorse' into WW swim

12th meeting set for Glenn Saturday

Belleville swimmers finished 34 points off the pace set by Garden City East last year in finishing third at the Western Wayne Swim & Diving Invitational.

And, Saturday night when nine area teams gather for the 12th annual meeting, Coach Sam Vicchy feels the Tigers will still be in "rough waters."

"Checking the times available to us and with the 12 place point system the WW meet will be using, the team that has the depth will end up on top," said the Tiger mentor.

"Unfortunately, because of the lack of depth, we're going to have a tough time beating some of those teams. In fact, I consider us to be a 'darkhorse' at best."

The prestigious area meet, one of the highlights of the 1974 high school swim season, will be held at Westland John Glenn on Friday and Saturday.

DIVING preliminaries and semi-finals will be staged Friday night while the swimming events will get underway on Saturday with the prelims at 10 a.m. The finals are scheduled to begin at 7 p.m.

The meet is sponsored by The Daily Eagle and The Associated Newspapers.

East, which garnered 67 points to beat out runnerup Cherry Hill last year, faces serious challenges from its arch-rival again. However, this year's field is as evenly-balanced as possibly could be, according to Al Wachtel, John Glenn head swim coach.

"I feel that six teams will be right in the race," said Wachtel, whose Rockets also have an impressive 10-1 dual meet record. "And I don't think any team will run away with it."

The Glenn coach singled out East, Cherry Hill, Livonia Churchill and Franklin as well as Belleville "as having good shots at winning the championship."

Other teams in the field include Garden City West, Dearborn Heights Robichaud and Inkster.

Because the balcony for the pool seats 350 fans at Glenn, athletic director Don Domke advises fans to arrive early.

"WITH SO many teams involved, we are expecting more than a capacity crowd," said Domke, "therefore we are going to serve the public on a first come, first serve basis."

Admission is $1 and 50 cents for adults and students, respectively.

The top three finishers in each of the 11 events will be awarded trophies while ribbons will be presented to those who end up in fourth through six places.

The winning team and coach also will be awarded trophies while the runnerup will get a plaque.

Dennis Harkness accounted for two of the Tiger wins. Harkness clocked in 1:00.2 for the 100-yard butterfly and came up with a 1:03.9 for the 100-yard backstroke.

Aleta Rice and Ray Liebler provided the Tigers with a 1-2 punch on the boards. Miss Rice's winning total was 235.80, while Liebler accumulated 225.50 for his efforts.

HOOK SHOT? — It may not be a hook that basketball fans recognize, but this is definitely a hook shot, Robin Hook (13) that is. Arcing the ball over the outstretched hand of Plymouth's Dave Prueter (4), the Belleville cager collected 12 points in a losing cause against the Rocks who avenged their first round defeat to Coach Tom Niemi's Tigers. — Enterprise Roman photo.

Gagnon gets his shot at pro football

By TOM MOORADIAN

"It was inevitable," said Manny Lentine, "that kid just had too much talent and drive to be overlooked by the pros. I know he'll make it. And I wish him all the luck in the world."

Lentine, the ex-St. Mary's grid coach, was commenting upon the news that his former All-Stater, Dave Gagnon had signed to play with the Chicago Bears.

Gagnon, a good-looking, 23-year-old runningback, starred for Wayne St. Mary's back in the good old days when the school was a high school and the Blue Knights were a terror in the Catholic League.

An excellent athlete who went on to break all sorts of football records at Ferris State, Gagnon signed as a free agent yesterday. He received a bonus but the Bears' front office isn't divulging the size of the bonus or the terms of the contract.

ABE GIBBON, the Bears' head coach, had a couple of things to say about Dave at the ceremonies. He pointed out that "the Bears were attracted to Dave's aggressiveness and his willingness to hit anybody."

Gagnon becomes only the second area gridder to ever sign a pro football contract in the past decade. Belleville's Frank Nunley, a veteran middle linebacker of the San Francisco 49ers, is the first.

Though St. Mary's was the breeding ground for Gagnon's football career, he matured at Ferris State. Over the past couple of years he erased many of the ancient grid records at the college.

Dave holds the career scoring record at Ferris, setting it at 27 touchdowns in three years. He also chalked up 14 TDs in his final season last year and that also is a record.

A husky 5-foot-9½, 202 pound ball carrier, Gagnon is also the second leading rusher in Ferris' history, gaining nearly 100 yards per game as runningback. He holds the single season pass reception record for the school at 325 yards which was set as a sophomore running out of a slot formation.

"Dave's a real crowd favorite," said Dan Shafer, who heads the Sports Information Department at Ferris. "He really packed them in for us."

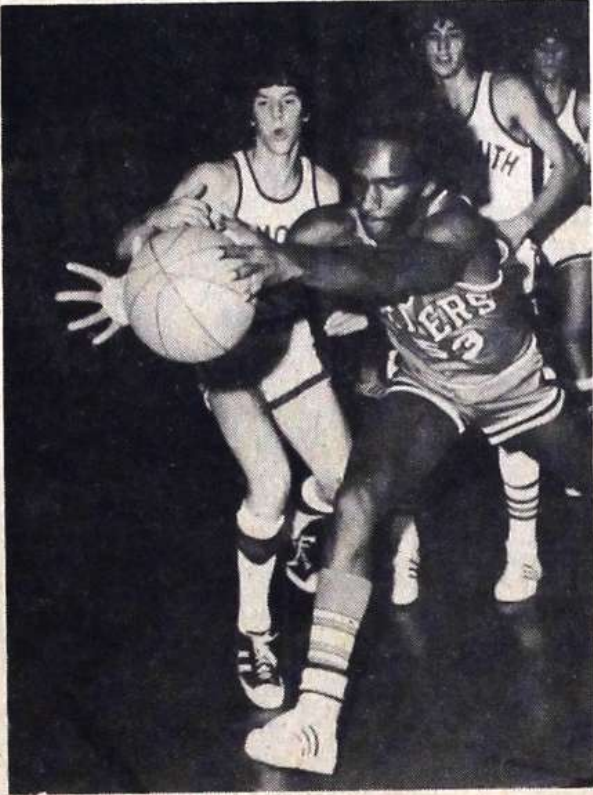

A major in environmental health management, Gagnon will receive his degree later this year.

Guess we're going to have a lot of Chicago Bears fans in Wayne, won't we?

Sure he's going to make the team - he's gotten this far, hasn't he?

IN CONTROL — Leaving a couple of Plymouth cagers behind him, Belleville's Harless Hairston (53) grabs for this loose ball and gains control of it. However, Hairston and the Tigers didn't control the game against the Suburban 8 Conference leader and fell, 77-51. Romulus puts it together on mats Romulus High's wrestling team is getting better by the day, claims Coach Jim Stallings, so much so that the Eagle mentor is starting to talk seriously about taking the state Class A championship.

"I think we've got a real good shot at taking it all this year," Stallings said. "And I haven't told anybody that yet."

SPARKED BY heavyweight Henry Red and 142-pounder Bradley Smith, Romulus rolled to its sixth straight victory last Thursday, a 41-18 pasting of Saline.

The win hiked the Eagles' record to 6-5 on the season.

"I'm very pleased with the way things are going," Stallings said. "The Saline meet was our best performance of the year."

Stallings shuffled his line-up to "keep things close" with the weaker Hornets, which resulted in the Eagles dropping their first three matches. One was by forfeit.

But Romulus roared back with victories in the remaining nine classes for the win — highlighted by Reid's 40th straight win and Smith's 15-0 decision at 148 pounds.

If Belleville's Tom Niemi could get some "consistency" out of his team, the Tigers may find themselves with a pretty decent basketball team.

Consistency, the lack of it that is, wound the Tigers up in the Suburban 8 Conference lost column again last Friday after they had put on an excellent display of showmanship and shooting against Wayne earlier in the week.

On Friday, however, Niemi's contingent couldn't shoot or muscle with the taller Plymouth Salem quintet and lost a 77-51 league game.

THE SALEM victory avenged an earlier Plymouth loss to Belleville, the only team that has beaten the league-leader this year in the conference.

"We shot poorly and couldn't board with them," said Niemi of his team about the Salem rematch. "They grabbed a 12 point lead on us the first period and we were never in it after that."

Salem widened the margin to 36-23 at the half, then outscored their visitors 20-14 and 21-14 in the final two periods.

Belleville shot 34 percent from the floor, hitting on 19 of 56 shots while they committed 14 turnovers. Salem shot a little less than 50 percent.

Only two Belleville cagers managed to get into the double figure scoring column. Robin Hook and Narvell Turner split 24 points between them.

Belleville, after hosting Livonia Bentley Tuesday, will travel to Dearborn on Friday for its next league game.

BELLEVILLE got its margin of revenge from Wayne Memorial earlier in the week, 78-75. Wayne had beaten the Tigers 69-62 at the Cherry Hill Holiday Tournament in December.

Trailing 18-14 at the end of the initial period, Belleville rallied with the help of Otty Turrentine who came off the bench in the second period and poured in 10 of his 20 points.

Belleville erased the four-point deficit with a 24-17 scoring edge during the second period and clinged to a precarious 38-35 halftime advantage.

The Tigers got some breathing room after the half as Turrentine and Mel Abraham led a surge which upped the local team's lead by as much as 14 points in the third period.

However, Wayne refused to quit. Clark Johnson and Ken Grace paced a Zebra

Belleville readies for league meet

Gerald Malecek sees a scramble for the Suburban 8 Conference runnerup spot and hopefully Belleville grapplers will be in the midst of the battle.

"This tournament can be so tight that we could run-away with second or end up near the bottom," said Malecek whose Tigers trounced Livonia Bentley 48-15 for their fourth league win in six starts. "A lot will depend on how we wrestle and, of course, if we all stay healthy."

The flu bug has crept into the area and that has caused some problems.

The Belleville mat strategist also sees Trenton upending Edsel Ford, the defending champ, for the title.

"I feel that Trenton has a slight edge over Edsel," Malecek said, "then, from there on it will be anyone's guess."

The league meet will be on stage on Saturday at Allen Park. However, before that, the Tigers have a date with Edsel Ford tomorrow. The match will bring down the curtains to the league's dual meet phase of the season.

'Pressure is biggest enemy': Meriweather

If Romulus High's basketball team could only lick its biggest enemy—pressure—the Eagles would almost be unbeatable.

The pressure of a gym full of screaming fans at a hostile school has taken its toll at least twice this season on the Eagles, the latest coming last Friday.

Leading by four points with just 24 seconds left in overtime at Muskegon Heights, Romulus fell apart and let its hosts score six quick points to claim a narrow 79-77 victory. It was the third consecutive defeat for the Eagles who bowed to top-ranked Detroit Northwestern and Ecorse.

"WE DID a good job, but its tough to win away from home," intoned Eagle coach Jesse Meriweather. "We just never could shake 'em."

"We lost it ourselves by letting them beat us in the last 24 seconds when we had a lead."

Muskegon Heights victory revenge an earlier 71-70 defeat at Romulus in December and upped the hosts' record to 11-6.

Romulus slipped to 11-4 on the season and is priming for a test Friday night at Dearborn Heights Robichaud (2-11).

"IT'S GOING to be another tough road game," Meriweather said. "And everybody always plays their best games against Romulus. But we believe we can beat anybody if we just don't fall to the pressure."

"That's our biggest concern," he continued. "Pressure cost us the Muskegon Heights and Ecorse games—both close games. We just couldn't concentrate in the latter stages."

Romulus had a chance to trip Heights in regulation time last Friday but the hosts' Mike Smith riveted a 15-foot jumper in the final seconds to hurl the contest into the extra period tied at 71-71.

In the three-minute overtime, Romulus grabbed a four-point lead entering the fateful final 24 seconds. Muskegon suddenly blew past the Eagles for two quick buckets to tie it, and before Romulus could call time out over the din of the screaming crowd, Jeff Brown laced in a 10-footer at the buzzer to win it.

BOTH TEAMS displayed superbly balanced scoring attacks. Romulus put four of the five players who saw action in double figures, with John Long leading the way with 29 points. James Hall had 23, Ricky Hubert 13 and Michael Morrison 10.

Salem wins, 77-51

But Belleville managed to hold off Wayne to ice its fourth victory in 13 starts.

ABRAHAM'S seven field goals and 10 of 18 from the foul line for 24 points gave him the game's individual scoring honors, while teammates Turrentine and Robin Hook also were in two figures with 20 and 12 points, respectively.

Turrentine also teamed with Abraham to help the Tigers dominate the boards, 63-52. Abraham hauled down 17 while Otty had 15 rebounds.

But there is a stark difference between Woodhaven or Jefferson — and Grosse Ile. The former pair is wallowing in the league cellar while Grosse Ile is at the opposite end, and will put Huron's improving skills to the supreme test in the 8 p.m. game.

"WE'VE BEEN shooting a lot better," insists Herman. "In the last three games we've shot over 41 percent. And our rebounding is improving too."

A week ago Tuesday, Huron literally destroyed young Woodhaven, 67-29. Led by Joe Richert's 20 points and Howard LeBlanc's 18, the Chiefs dominated every facet of the game and led 40-9 at the half, a tribute to their defensive efforts.

Huron didn't let itself get fat on the victory however, storing up that aggressiveness for Friday when the Chiefs bounced Jefferson, 72-64, to climb out of their last place tie with the Monroe school.

Although Richert pumped in a game-high 29 points for the victorious Chiefs, Dave Blount and Don Bennett drew the most praise in Herman's estimation.

THE DUO controlled the offensive and defensive boards for Huron and pulled down 10 rebounds apiece to give the team a 38-26 carom.

Huron rips Jefferson for 2nd league win

The true learning value of New Boston Huron High's two-game basketball winning streak will be discovered Friday, when the Chiefs venture into the hostile territory of Huron League co-leader Grosse Ile.

Chief coach Andy Herman claims his quintet is coming of age, both shooting-wise and rebounding-wise, as evidenced by the squad's latest two victories over Woodhaven and Monroe Jefferson.

But there is a stark difference between Woodhaven or Jefferson — and Grosse Ile. The former pair is wallowing in the league cellar while Grosse Ile is at the opposite end, and will put Huron's improving skills to the supreme test in the 8 p.m. game.

Area top prep swim results

Mark Blanchard, Dale Sweneze, Tom Bird.

Three area prep swimmers who have been clocked with the leading times in their specialties. And their big tests will come Saturday at the 12 annual Western Wayne Swimming & Diving Championship to be held at John Glenn.

Can they nail down coveted first places?

Blanchard and Sweneze will be representing Garden City East, the defending WW champ, while Bird is with Glenn, one of the premier challengers.

BLANCHARD'S name appears on top of the 200-yard individual medley (2:11.0) the 100-yard backstroke (1:02.0) and the 100-yard breaststroke (1:07.0) while Sweneze, who was a double winner last year, at the WW, has the best times in the area for the 50-yard freestyle (22.4) and the 100-yard freestyle (51.0).

Bird is tops in the 200-yard freestyle (1:53.2) and in the 500-yard freestyle (5:14.8).

It will be interesting to see if their coaches put them in these events and will they be able to emerge from the pool with victories?

The area times are compiled by Cherry Hill coach Jerry Pawloski who can be reached at PA 2-5900 (Cherry Hill High School) or at home (9-414-3999).

Parents should keep infected children home

Western Wayne County children who contract chickenpox should be kept out of school seven days after the first appearance of the eruption, doctors from the Wayne County Department of Health warn.

A child having chickenpox scabs is unlikely to communicate the disease if it's been a week since the first physical signs of the disease appeared, one physician said.

A child who previously had chickenpox is unlikely to become reinfected. At the present time, a preventive vaccine for the disease is not available.

PHYSICIANS at the Wayne County Health Center in Eloise recommend that children with chickenpox lesions avoid contact with individuals who have not had the disease, particularly adults.

Although chickenpox usually is a mild disease in a child, when contracted by an adult it may present a serious health problem.

A late term pregnant woman exposed to the disease near delivery may give birth to an infant infected with chickenpox.

A susceptible mother near term who has been in contact with someone with chickenpox lesions should see her doctor.

PHYSICIANS AT the health center also say that head lice (pediculosis) is on the increase among school children in Wayne County. The very small but visible insects, grayish white in color, live on a human head of hair feeding on the scalp and laying eggs at the hair base.

Head lice can be acquired by personal contact and by putting on infested garments such as hats, caps, scarves, or sharing combs and brushes.

They also may be acquired by contact with infested upholstered furniture since the adult louse can live about 24 hours outside the human scalp and eggs on loose hairs may live even longer.

Using regular shampoo is unlikely to get rid of the lice. Shampoo the hair with lice killing shampoo. Kwell shampoo can be obtained at the health department, or with a doctor's prescription at the drug store. It is important to follow the directions on the label.

IN ADDITION to hair shampooing, bedding, combs and brushes, head gear, furniture and clothing should be thoroughly cleaned. Loose hairs on furniture and carpeting must be discarded.

Heat kills the louse in addition to insecticides which contain the ingredient pyrethrum on the label, but these methods of killing the insects are not to be used on any part of the body.

The heat from a clothes dryer is effective in killing the lice but care should be taken to insure that high temperatures are not harmful to the fabric.

All these steps need to be done at the same time the infested individual is being treated with the louse killing shampoo to prevent reinfection and spread.

WAYNE COUNTY health officials warn that the immunization levels for preschool and school age children remain dangerously below the required levels of protection necessary to combat communicable disease epidemics.

Parents are urged to contact their doctor or local health department to insure that, their children are protected from these dangerous and sometimes crippling communicable diseases.

Call 274-2800 or 721-0200, ext. 6891 for immunization information.

Extra care in engineering...it makes a big difference in small cars.

What kind of gas mileage will you get with a small car? United States Auto Club has some answers.

The United States Auto Club conducted mileage tests to determine what kind of mileage you can expect to get by driving a small car sensibly under normal driving conditions.

They tested four 6-cylinder cars, including the Dodge Dart Sport and Plymouth Duster (equipped with our 225 6-cylinder engine and new standard 2.76 rear axle), a Chevrolet Nova, a Ford Maverick and a four-cylinder Mustang II, all with manual transmissions. Using non-professional drivers, they took these 1974 cars over a 972-mile two-day trip through cities and towns and over the highway, doing their best to average 55 m.p.h. while on the open road.

The drivers stopped to rest, to eat and stay overnight, just as you would do on such a trip. Then the drivers put the cars through 108 miles of city traffic which included 229 traffic lights and 30 stop signs. A thorough test, thoroughly supervised by USAC.

TESTS SANCTIONED AND RESULTS CERTIFIED BY USAC, JANUARY, 1974.

Here are the certified results.

CERTIFIED: Dodge Dart Sport and Plymouth Duster—with 6-cylinder engines—delivered more miles per gallon in city traffic than Mustang II with 4-cylinders. And they delivered comparable mileage on the highway.

CERTIFIED: Plymouth Duster and Dodge Dart Sport delivered over 7 more miles per gallon than Maverick in city traffic.

CERTIFIED: Dodge Dart Sport and Plymouth Duster delivered over 8 more miles per gallon than Nova in city traffic.

CERTIFIED: Plymouth Duster and Dodge Dart Sport also delivered more miles per gallon than Nova or Maverick on the highway.

So if good gas mileage is important to you in a small car, we have the small cars you're looking for...plus a whole lot more...

- ...more trunk space than 3 Pintos
- ...20" more total hiproom than Maverick
- ...standard electronic ignition
- ...and a sticker price lower than VW's most popular model.*

Price comparison based on manufacturers' suggested retail price, excluding destination charges, dealer preparation, state and local taxes. Optional whitewall tires and wheel covers shown, $53.20 extra. Optional vinyl roof as shown on Plymouth Duster, $63.20 extra.

The answer is a small car at your Chrysler-Plymouth and Dodge Dealer's.

Ex-Belvil hospital chief joins Cancer Foundation

The former chief of staff of Belvil Community Hospital has joined the staff of the Michigan Cancer Association as associate to the medical director of the Breast Cancer Detection Center in Detroit.

The new associate is John H. Wank, D.O.

The Breast Cancer Detection Center is the only facility in the Midwest where a variety of special tests to detect breast cancer is available at a single location.

TESTS INCLUDE two types of mammography (breast X-ray), a cervical Pap test and a breast Pap, in addition to blood tests, clinical examination and a medical history.

Services at the detection center are available through pre-scheduled appointments.

Wank assists Dr. John H. Burrows, medical director, in the physical examinations of the patients and in evaluations of findings.

"We put all the information together to form a total picture," Wank said. "Then we decide whether the tests are strongly suggestive of cancer, show some possibility, or show no pathology."

"I'M VERY enthusiastic about the entire program," he added. "It serves a useful purpose. We have so much here to offer the patient in the realm of cancer detection."

Before joining the Michigan Cancer Foundation, Wank was chief of staff of Belvil Community Hospital in Belleville, from 1971 to 1972. He also was affiliated with the Garden City Osteopathic Hospital and engaged in private practice.

Wank and his wife Grace have two sons and a daughter. One son, Ralph, attends the Detroit Institute of Technology, and John Jr. is a senior at Garden City High School. Their daughter, Mrs. Grace Paull, lives in South Haven.

The Michigan Cancer Foundation is a Torch Drive agency serving Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Monroe counties.

Van Buren charts increases in the state equalized values

The state equalized valuation (SEV) of property in Van Buren Township for the 1973 property tax assessment currently being collected has been set at $105,303,386 by the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation.

The valuation represents an increase of $10,445,736 over the 1972 SEV figure of $94,857,650, the second consecutive year the township has logged such a rise. In 1972, the SEV showed an increase of $25,406,480 over 1971 figures.

The deadline for paying 1973 property tax is Feb. 28, Ralph Hedman, the Van Buren Township Treasurer, said. Van Buren Township Board of Trustees recently extended the deadline to the new date without threat of penalties for late payments.

The property tax assessment, which includes county, township, school and Wayne County Community College and Wayne County Intermediate School District taxes, depends on which school district a resident lives in.

There are three school districts serving residents of the 34-square-mile township. They are the Lincoln Consolidated School District, Van Buren Public School District and the Wayne-Westland Community School District.

The property tax assessments for the 1973 year are: Lincoln Consolidated School District, 44.36 mills per $1,000 of assessed property valuation; Van Buren Public School District, 41.05 mills per $1,000 of assessed property valuation; and Wayne-Westland Community School District, 58.98 mills per $1,000 of assessed property valuation.

Police nab man in armed robbery

A pre-trial hearing for a resident of Van Buren Township accused of armed robbery of a Romulus supermarket will be held in the 34th District Court in Romulus tomorrow.

Charged with the Jan. 30 holdup of a small market on Middlebelt Road was Andre Woods, 22, of 49221 I-94 Expressway service drive.

According to Det. Richard Williamson of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, the holdup man entered the store around 9 p.m. and forced an employee to empty the store's cash register at gunpoint.

Police said that Woods had about $370 in cash in his car when arrested, the same amount reported taken.

Woods stood mute on the armed robbery charge, when arraigned in 29th District Court in Wayne. A plea of innocent was entered for him by Judge John C. Seiler. Woods was released on a $2,000 bond pending a pre-trial hearing.

Motion by Oakley, supported by Coleman, to adopt Resolution 74-137:

WHEREAS: The proposed fuel shortage throughout the United States is manufacturing a situation of crisis for the citizens who must depend on the availability of fuel as one of the basic supports of life; and

WHEREAS: Said situation is resulting in wholesale layoffs with a promise of more to come, reductions in needed fuel required to heat homes, schools, places of work, hospitals, and many other public institutions; and

WHEREAS: Those experiencing the brunt of the adverse effects created by this crisis situation are, in fact, those who can least afford such reductions. They are, in fact, those who occupy the lower and middle income brackets representing 70 percent of the population of the United States, while this crisis situation has created windfall profits for those who can most afford shortages and who represent a mere 10 percent of the population of the United States; and

WHEREAS: All reported means recommended, suggested, and/or proclaimed to administer this crisis, as a matter of reality, intensify the situation; methods suggested, to date, provide even greater profits for the minority (the rich) and dramatically more hardships for the majority (the poor and disadvantaged); and

WHEREAS: Those poor and disadvantaged persons who are fortunate enough to still hold their employment are being forced to stay home, and/or go on welfare rolls because the prices of necessary fuel has been allowed to increase without restrictions while income has, by law, been forced to remain stable; and

WHEREAS: This practice threatens the very fiber of the democratic process, free enterprise, certainly supply and demand, and the constitutional right of every man to have an equal opportunity to work.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the City Council of the City of Romulus does, herewith, set forth its tenable opposition to any and all increases in the taxes on gasoline which would be allowed to be passed on to the consumer; and does, herewith, pray that the United States Government would find a more equitable solution that would not impose further hardships and injustices on its citizens.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That the City Council of the City of Romulus urge the following be observed by National, State and Local Governments in coping with the energy crisis:

1. Insure that in the event rationing is necessary, supplies be divided equitably on the basis of need, and reject any proposals to limit supplies by price and tax increases, which would only deprive those less affluent.
2. Institute strong price and profit controls including consideration of an excess profit tax on the fuel industry to discourage exploitation of this national crisis by those who have been responsible for causing it.
3. Provide specific programs to handle specific problems, specifically a program to aid communities in developing their own specialized programs to combat individual situations unique to the municipality.
4. Protection of vital community programs such as education, health and environmental quality, including appeal procedures for persons or communities suffering extreme adverse effects of energy curtailment decisions.
5. Adequate representation of a cross-section of society, including labor and consumers, must be guaranteed on any administrative boards established to allocate energy consumption.

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED: That copies of this Resolution be sent to the President of the United States, the Energy Emergency Action Group, Congressman William D. Ford, and United States Senators, Philip Hart and Robert Griffin, and all Wayne County Municipalities. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Oakley, Trumble, Stewart, Lee, Coleman, Block, McAnally. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.

74-138

12. Motion by Block, supported by Lee, that Warrant No. 129 (Vouchers 6650 through 6921 inclusive) be approved with the following deletions:

Adjusting the grand total amount from $249,842.00 to $249,740.80. Roll call vote showing: Ayes - Oakley, Trumble, Stewart, Lee, Coleman, Block, McAnally. Nays - None. Motion carried unanimously.
